About me

I'm a front-end developer, based in Brazil but willing to relocate anywhere in the world, with 3 years of web development studies and more than 2 years on-hand working. I'm currently creating a platform, which is aimed to extreme sports enthusiasts, who seek to make friends and map their favorite places to practice around the world, building all design and development. I've also developed innumerable landing pages and websites as a freelance developer.
